Zilphah.

Weather fine, warm and dry.

Mrs. Owen Moore is on the sick list this week.

Wilson Moore and wife were in town last week.

J. E. Moore is on an extended visit in Fayette county.

Farmers are cutting corn and seed-ing. Tobacco most all out.

G. F. Moore and wife visited their son at Eminence Friday last.

John Samples sold his farm to Mr. Jack Clark this week for $2,000.

Willett Dowden, of Jeffersonville, Ind., was in this community Sunday last.

Miss Dovie Edington returned home Saturday from a two week's visit to Eminence.

A great many from this neighborhood attended the Democratic rally at Cropper's Saturday last and pronounced it a grand affair.

The Sorbo found quite a curiosity in his corn field, in the way of a corn stalk with 8 ears on it. One ear was separate from the rest and the other seven were in a cluster—one of the seven a fully developed ear and the rest partly full, all joined together on one cob.

CLOSE OBSERVER.

Ben. D. Bell,

Druggist, of Lexington, Ky., says that Dr. Hale's Household remedies (consisting of Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure, Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and Dr. Hale's Household Tea) are the best sold here he has heard of in this country. This is owing to the great merit of these popular remedies. They invariably give great satisfaction, save many doctors' bills and work wonderful cures. Everybody should use them. 25 and 50c. sizes at Carpenter's South Side drug store.

Scrabble.

J. C. Moore and daughter, Miss Lulu B., attended the barbecue at Cropper's last Saturday.

The Clark brothers, John, James and Bob, have purchased another farm adjoining their already large one on Six Mile creek.

Miss Sidney Moore is still on the sick list.

Miss Sallie Belle, school mistress at this place, visited her home at Peysters, Saturday and Sunday last.

Quite a large crowd attend Church at Lebanon Sunday and listened to Bro. Adkins' well delivered sermon.

Welcome to the ROUNDABOUT, with its new columns.

LIVELY BOY.

We authorise our advertised druggists to sell Dr. King's New Discovery, Camphorated Cough and Cold, upon this condition: If you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold or any Lung, Throat or Chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at PHIL. CARPENTER'S Drug Store. Large size 50c. and $1.00. 3

To the Public.

I wish to announce to the public that I have bought out the establishment of Mr. John Driscoll, at 237 St. Clair street, and will make a specialty of selling skins in the various countries which are prepared to sell them as low as any body in the market. A cool and refreshing glass of beer can always be found on tap. Good soup every day from 10 to 12 o'clock, and a fine lunch every Saturday night from 8 to 10 o'clock.

F. J. SUTTERLIN,
No. 237 St. Clair street, Frankfort,
Kentucky.

THE PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

The City Should Control All Within the Limits.

Kentucky's Trotting Carnival.

The Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, with headquarters at Lexington, has no local claim for its membership, extends over the States and its influence over the continent. It gives the greatest meetings in America and deserves the support of all, especially Kentuckians who love the light harness and the fast trotter. Look up to what we considered their greatest race, and we still think so—that the Transylvania Stake will be the greatest race ever trotted, but the closing of entries for the purse classes insure contests the like of which was never seen before. The first of the stake races October 8, 10, 12, and 14. The Transylvania is on the 10th, and will be the greatest race ever trotted; but on the 8th, when the three-year-olds compete for that $6,000 in the Representative, you will see the greatest race of colts ever on a track. Monitors, Midnight Chimes, Ralph Wilkes, Directum, Bill Lindsay, Bullion, Wilkeswood, Lady McGregor, Rose Turner, Adelaide McGregor, the old girls, etc. The title of the crack two-year-olds in the Lexington Stake; the stake winners that will meet in the Kentucky, and the wonders in The Special. The Free-for-All on October 12th will be the greatest race ever trotted for a purse.

Dr. Hale's Household Tea.

Coughing before the entire mucous membrane lining the air passage leading to the lungs becomes inflamed, as it surely will be from a cough neglected. There is but one certain and guaranteed remedy for a cough quickly. Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure cures every kind of cough from a simple cold to incipient consumption. 25 and 50c. sizes at Carpenter's South Side drug store.

Transfer at Paris.

The Kentucky Midland has arranged cheap transfer charges for passengers between K. M. and K. C. points when connections are not made at the railway junction. The company also makes frequent transfers between Frankfort and stations on the K. C., Mayville and Winchester and Richmond line. Be sure to ask Kentucky Midland ticket agent for transfer checks.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT — Proceeding from home Tuesday with his brother to take a hunt, Ellis Lancaster, a youth of nineteen residing near Swallowfield, received the charge of his brother's gun in the right side, producing such injuries that it is believed he will die. The explosion was accidental.

ROBERT ELLIS WOUNDED — A quarrel between Robert Green and Robert Ellis Hill, two colored men, occurred at Washington and Merri streets Thursday, resulting in Green throwing a rock at Ellis, which struck the latter in the head and made a painful but not dangerous wound. Green was lodged in jail.

ASSIGNMENT — John J. Heller the meat merchant on Broadway, made an assignment Thursday evening to L. B. Marshall. His assets and liabilities have not yet been arrived at, but Mr. Marshall estimates that his assets will be about six or seven hundred dollars and his liabilities not much, if any, more than that.

EDMUND WATSON TAYLOR — The Louisville Post of Wednesday says Mr. Edmund Watson Taylor, of this city, who is clerk of the scales and handicapper of the Jockey Club grounds at the Louisville races this season, the compliment of saying that he is "the best handicapper in the West, if not in the whole country."

DEATH OF MR. NEWBOLD — Mr. D. O. Newbold, who was at one time a prominent merchant of Lexington, died Thursday at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Sanford Goin, Jr. He was about eighty years of age and the father of Mr. T. C. Newbold, now in this city representing a building and loan association of Louisville. By reason of his death at this time, Mr. Sanford Goin, Jr., sustains the bereavement of both his father and father-in-law. The remains will be buried from the family residence in Woodford county this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

REGISTRATION — The first day's registration in the city under the new election law was greater than the expectations of the officers. The total in each precinct was as follows:

Vogler's Store..... 227

Bridge Toll House..... 225

Court House..... 133

Market House..... 417

Gas House..... 364

Total..... 1,436

The City Council having provided for two additional days, the books for registration will be open next Tuesday and also Tuesday week; and if any person should, through sickness or other good excuse be necessarily absent from the city, he can go before the County Clerk on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday preceding the election, and have his name recorded on the books.

THE STREET RAILWAY — The work of laying the rails up Main street for the street railway was suspended at High street until the turnpike company formally ratified the action of the city council Saturday in accepting the turnpike road within the limits of the city. After that was accomplished Thursday the work was again put under way and another block in the distance to the cemetery completed yesterday. The four cars which have been purchased in Birmingham, Alabama, will be here one day next week, and if nothing hinders the progress of the work, by week after next it is believed the road will be open to public travel. A street railway is a long stride towards keeping pace with the enterprise of the age by which cities are made to grow and prosper and it is hoped that every encouragement possible will now be extended to the road in its day of infancy.

STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION — Messrs. C. C. McChord, Urey Woodson and Chas. B. Poynett, the Railroad Commissioners, met in the city Monday to begin the annual assessment of the railroads, but for the reason that a part of the reports from the railroads had not yet been received by them, they postponed the work on the assessment until next week. In the meantime each member will investigate and work on such reports as have been made to the commissioners.

COLUMBUS DAY — The School Board met the co-operation of Prof. McHenry Rhoads' purpose to celebrate at the city school buildings on the 21st inst. the discovery of America by Columbus. A programme has been partly formulated, but it is too lengthy for publication. The exercises will consist of essays, recitations and talks relating to the main features of the life of Columbus and his wonderful discovery, to be followed by an ovation from some distinguished speaker, who is yet to be secured. The raising of the American flag on the top of the school building will conclude the day's celebration. The public will be invited to attend the exercises.

FOR RENT — The place formerly owned by Dr. W. H. Hall, on Cross Street. The house contains five rooms and kitchen. Large yard and garden, wood stable and water on premises. For terms apply to Dr. E. E. Hume.

SYRUP OF FIGS — The work of preparing the syrup of figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Fig is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Fig is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

DEATH OF TENNYSON,

Poet Laureate of England, and the Greatest Poet of the Age.

Lord Alfred Tennyson, the poet laureate of England, and greatest poet of the age, died in London Wednesday.

He was born at Somerby, in Lincolnshire, August 6, 1809, and was the third of seven sons in a family of twelve children. His father was Rev. George Clayton Tennyson, and his mother, a daughter of Rev. Stephen Fytche. A number of Tennyson's brothers wrote poetry, and he and his brother Charles made their first literary venture by the publication of a book of their poems between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years. At Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1828, Lord Tennyson first met Thackeray, and also Arthur Henry Hallam, to whom he became devotedly attached, and to whose memory he afterwards, in 1850, wrote "In Memoriam." In 1832 he published the "Lady of Shalott," "Miller's Daughter," "Lotus Eaters," "Dream of Fair Women," and other poems. Another edition of his poems appeared in 1842, which included the well known "Locksley Hall," "Gardener's Daughter," "Morte d'Arthur," "Godeve," and "Clarke Vere de Vere," in which latter poem he says:

However it be, it seems to me,
'Tis only sweet to be good.

Kind hearts are more than coronets,
And simple faith than Norman blood.

"The Princess," containing a part of his best and truest poetry, was published in 1847. It was after quoting the lines below from this poem that Poe said he regarded him as the noblest poet that ever lived; he was the most ethereal, elevating, and pure; that no poet was so little of the earth, earthly.

Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean.
Tears from the depth of some divine despair
Rise in the heart and gather to the yes,
In looking on the happy autumn fields.

And thinking of the days that are no more.

And sweet as those by hopeless long feign'd
On lips that are for others; deep as love,
Deep as first love and wild with all regret;
O death in life, the day's at no more!

In June, 1850, the poet married a niece of Sir John Franklin, and in the same year he succeeded Wordsworth as the poet laureate. This office, among other poems of commemoration, was the cause of bringing forth the "Charge of the Light Brigade." In 1859 the "Idylls of the King," regarded by many critics as his masterpiece, appeared. "Enoch Arden," in 1864, "Queen Mary," in 1876, and "Foresters" and other poems and dramas followed, and though he wrote as late as a few years ago, it may be said that his life work closed after writing Harold. He was raised to the British peerage in 1884 under the title of Baron Tennyson, of Aldworth and Farringford. He is dead but his works will endure as long as the English language is spoken, and Mrs. Browning's tribute paid to him many years since, has at last come to be realized: "If any thing were to happen to Tennyson, the world would go into mourning." Among his minor poems there is none, perhaps, that has been quoted oftener than the following beautiful lines:

On thy cold gray stones, O sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.'

'And the stately ships go on
To the raven under the hills;
But oh for the touch of a vanish'd hand
And the sound of a voice that is still!'

'Break, break, break,
At the foot of thy crags, O sea!
But the tender grace of a dove is dead
Will never come back to me.'

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery which was not uncommon and less dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Williams, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist. 1m

King's Royal Germateur.

Pre-eminently the medicine of the century. Its phenomenal success as a seller and favorite with the people has endeared it to the medicine world. Based upon the Germ theory of Diseases, it is unique, modern, and at once popular, commanding itself as a necessary household remedy. It advertises best by its name. Specific for all internal diseases, Nervous, Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is without doubt the most reliable germ destroyer in existence, and to the extent that the germ theory is correct, King's Royal Germateur is the remedy. It is no accident but is the result of fifteen years study of medical genius. For sale by Chapman & Williams. 19

A MARRIAGE LICENSE

Served on a Widow and Returned,
Attachment Void.

Marriage licenses are in the nature of a sheriff's execution, and like them they are sometimes returned to the County Clerk, "no property found." It does not often occur, however, that a faithful and efficient man in the business is obliged to return his license for want of something on which to lay his attachment, no more than about four such cases happening in about fifteen hundred successful ones in this county, but one of these developed last week, when a widower of more than sixty years, whose wife died last spring, brought back to County Clerk Smith a license which had been granted to him several days before to wed a young and good looking widow of twenty-two years, who had a number of suitors for her hand in the northern part of this county, where the couple reside. The widower handed the license back to the County Clerk with an expression as solemn as that which an undertaker wears when he is preparing his heaviest insolvent creditor for burial. He then sat down, heaved a sigh and told the group in the office looking on in sympathy, he said: "Gentlemen, you can't trust a widder. Why sir, I give her a brand new, store bought, red calliper dress if she would take me instead of their other fellers, and when she said she would I come to town, bought the dress and took out the license at the same time, and when she got the calliper, she put me off, as she said, until she could make the dress, and now you see she won't have me at all. If the Clerk will let keep that dockyment and wait till I scour the country, I'll have another woman's name to be put in it, but it won't be a widder's." The bereaved groom was informed, however, that the State would not allow the Clerks to make erasures of names and use old licenses for new brides, and he departed for home a crestfallen but still hopeful man, in the search for a successor to the sprightly widow.

Old Furnaces Uncovered.

In excavating for the foundation of the Masonic Temple on Ann street, the workmen uncovered on Monday some old furnaces which were several feet underground. They were under a spot where a large smoke house used to stand and were built by the late Paddy Burns, for many years a prominent merchant in this city, for the purpose of smoking the bacon he cured in the house every winter. The furnaces were very large and we are told by the old citizens that "Old Paddy" used to fill them with hickory cordwood and the "smudge" they made was something fearful.

The old smoke house was torn away some forty years ago, and none but our older citizens remember ever having seen it. Burns was an Irishman by birth, but ardently attached to Frankfort and her people, and was up in arms in an instant to resent any slighting remark made about the place. On one occasion a tramp tailor spoke disparagingly of the town in his presence and old Paddy remarked to him: "Young man, if ye don't like the town ye can leave it." "But I don't intend to leave until I get ready," said the tailor; "I'm not afraid of anyone here." "But," said Burns, "there is somebody damnable afraid of you!" "What should they be afraid of me for?" asked the tailor. "They're afraid you'll slate something," said Burns.

The store he occupied stood upon the ground where Messrs. Crutcher & Starks' establishment now stands, and it is said of him that when in a good humor his laugh was so hearty that it could be heard down at the St. Clair street bridge, but in the latter years of his life, he lost his voice and talked in a whisper up to his death, which was sudden and unexpected.

He was one of the most popular men who ever lived in this city, and our old citizens still love to talk of his eccentricities and kindness of heart.

Sore throat and bronchial affections are speedily relieved and effectually cured by the use of that safe and reliable remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It has stood the test of half a century.

Ingomar Monday Night.

The Labadie, Rowell Company will present the ever popular classic drama, "Ingomar," at the Opera House, Monday, Oct. 10th. The management assures the patrons of the house that they will be more than pleased with the presentation of this grand production, as both Mr. Labadie and Miss Rowell are finished actors and the entire company has been well tried by critical audiences in all the first class theaters in the east.

Detroit Craft: Mr. Labadie was the star of the evening. The talented young actor has a fine conception of character, and his development of the leading parts were artistic and dramatic. His forcible and clear voice and manly presence delighted the audience at once. The author should congratulate himself in securing Mr. Labadie for the lead part in his play.

Why Don't You Stop

These words are very familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen, with the explanation is "Heart Disease." The reader beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Smothering Spells, Swollen Ankles, Asthma, Bright's Disease, Hunger, Shortness of Breath, Dimpling in Shoulders or Arm, Fluttering of Heart or Irregular Pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved the lives of thousands of testimonies free at J. W. Gayle's, who also sells the New Heart Cure.

Courtney Court.

The announcement that the candidates for Congress would speak at the Court House on Monday, and the fact of its being County Court day, drew a large crowd to the city on that day. The offerings of stock were about as usual and prices ruled about the same. Election fluid was circulating freely and some of those who were here went home feeling as happy as if they had been elected President or Sheriff.

Diamond Bentley, auctioneer, reports the sales: 14 horses from $25 to $100.50; 7 miles from $45 to $95; 6 colts $25 to $35.10; 4 milk cows from $14.10 to $25.25; 4 calves at $13.50 per head; 20 steers at $14.50 per head; 20 yearling steers at $18.10 per head; 6 dry cows at $6.40 per 100.

Catarrh Can't Be Cured

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, Catarrh is a blood or mucous disease, and in order to cure it, we are forced to use external remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients which produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh, send for testimonials.

Utilizing the Clay.

Since the soil was removed from the lot upon which the Masonic Temple will be built, on Ann street, the underlying clay, which is of excellent quality, is being removed to the brick yard of Messrs. Gault & Co., at the foot of Main street, South Side, where it is being made into brick which, when burned, will be laid in the walls of the building. As the amount of earth to be removed from the excavation "for the basement of the building is considerable, it is thought there will be enough clay taken out to manufacture nearly all the brick to be used in the immense structure.

A Horrible Railroad Accident.

Is daily chronic in our papers; also the death of some dear friend, who has died with Consumption, whereas, if he or she had taken Otto's Cure for Throat and Lung disease, time, trouble and money would be spared, and perhaps saved. Heed the warning! If you have a cough or any affection of the Throat or Lungs call at Chapman & Williams' and get a trial bottle free. Large size 50c.

The Fall Meeting.

The fall meeting of the Kentucky Association begins in Lexington on Saturday next, October 15th, and will continue until Thursday, the 27th. A number of fine races have been arranged for, among the entries are a number of fine youngsters, and good sport is promised during the meeting. The L. & N. Railroad will reduce rate tickets to Lexington and return during the meeting.

DAVIS-MILLER.—Mr. George Davis and Miss Mary E. Miller, daughter of Mr. Fred Miller, of this city, were married Wednesday, Rev. W. C. Taylor performing the ceremony.

HALDI-LUTKEMEIER.—The marriage of Mr. Emil Haldi to Miss Annie Lutkemeyer has been announced to take place at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Wm. C. Lutkemeyer, next Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 2 o'clock p.m.

BOOKS-MCDOWELL.—Miss Amelia, daughter of Mr. Joseph McDowell, of Danville, a brother of Col. Nicholas McDowell, State Agricultural Commissioner, was married Wednesday to Hon. John M. Brooks, Mayor of Middletown.

MCREADY-NEWBERRY.—Robert Hughes McReady, son of ex-Gov. McReady, and Miss Jessie Newberry, daughter of Gen. Robert C. Newberry, were married at Chicago Wednesday. Robert lived in this city a number of years and has many friends here who congratulate him on his good fortune.

SMOOT-SMoot.—Mr. Ransom Smoot, of Owen county, and Miss Gertrude Smoot, of this city, were married Sunday at the residence of Mr. Henry Vest on the South Side, Rev. W. C. Taylor officiating. The couple went to Boone county to visit relatives and will return to Owen county, their future home.

OFUTT-WELLS.—The Georgetown Times announces that Miss Margaret Wells, of that city, who has numerous friends here, will be married Wednesday, Oct. 20th, to Mr. Jack Ofutt, of Louisville, the ceremony to take place at the Christian Church at nine o'clock in the evening.

MEANS-RINGO.—Miss Ruby Ringo, daughter of Hon. Willis L. Ringo, Secretary of State under Gov. Buckner, was married Wednesday in that city to Mr. S. C. Means, a son of Mr. John Means, one of the wealthiest men in that part of the State.

Mr. Mean's father is in ill health and his extensive railroad, iron and other business interests are conducted by the son, who, though quite a young man, has shown great capacity in such large undertakings.

The bride's personal charms and splendid character won her a large circle of admiring friends during her father's residence here and the intelligence of her happy marriage has evoked the benediction of their warmest praises and congratulations.

A Strong Endorsement.

The daily press of New York is not given to gush over things theatrical, and it is a strange thing to see an endorsement of either an actor or a play without some qualifying and killing conjunctive sentence; there fore the following account of the production at the Union Square Theatre of "A Kentucky Colonel" by those sterling actors McKee Rankin and Frederic Bryton, which is taken from the New York "Recorder," is about the strongest metropolitan endorsement we have seen in late years. The Recorder says:

"A Kentucky Colonel" now running at the Union Square Theatre is great a favorite as its able artistic side. The scenes are well contrived, the square minute in the play than can be seen in any other production now on the boards. McKee Rankin's portrayal of the "Colonel" is an etching. Frederic Bryton's is a diamond. An inspiration! Frederic filled the house. The audience roared as it did once at Elmwood Keene."

Mr. Wright's Story.

Fetter's Southern Magazine for September contains a very readable little story, entitled "The Villa Capella," from the pen of Rev. C. Q. Wright, very prettily illustrated. The scene of the romance is in far away Italy, adjacent to the locality where Mr. Wright and family are sojourning at present. It reads very much like a chapter from real life and we should not be surprised if the incident related in a most pleasing strain was in reality a sketch of persons whom he has met, and of places he has visited.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, OCT. 8, 1892.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Mr. Frank Trumbo, a prominent farmer of this county, attended a political meeting in the school-house at Jetta Station, on Friday night of last week, at which Hon. W. W. Stephenson and W. T. B. South, Esq., spoke, and during the speaking Mr. Trumbo was stricken with paralysis—nearly his whole person being affected—and fell from his seat to the floor. He was taken up and carried to the home of his son, Mr. L. A. Trumbo, near by, where he lingered between life and death until Monday night, when he rallied a little and regained consciousness, though it is unable to speak, but is still in a critical condition.

Mr. Trumbo is a jolly, whole-souled old gentleman, who is universally popular with his neighbors, and his great misfortune has brought forth numerous expressions of regret and sympathy and his bedside is constantly attended by those to whom he has become endeared by his many excellent qualities of head and heart.

Fail to do Their Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty toward their neighbors. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbechter, Stevens Point, Wis., who for thirty years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling well and happy now. Miss Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by J. W. Gayle. Trial bottle free.

Horse Sale.

Meers. McFerran & Wyman sold a lot of Wyoming horses at public sale, at the stable of Meers. Salyers & McDonald, on Holmes street, Tuesday. Thirty-five mares were disposed of at an average of $40.81 per head, and seven colts brought an average of $20 per head.

Don't—if a dealer offers you a bottle of Salvation Oil without wrapper or label, or in a mutilated condition, or if it is in any way disguised at any price, there is something wrong—it may be a dangerous or worthless counterfeit. Insist upon getting a perfect, unbroken, genuine package. Be on your guard!

Special Excursion and Low Rates to the Great Adam Forepaugh Shows and the Fall of Nineveh.

The country is profusely filled for the appearance of the great Adam Forepaugh Shows, which will exhibit at Lexington, October 12, and which will be the only big show to exhibit in this vicinity this season. The Adam Forepaugh Shows command a recommendation to our people. For years it has been the largest and best conducted of all tented amusements. Its advent is always looked forward to as an event of prominence, and is the cause of general holiday. It is the only show of general value, and the lines of trade are professional. While the Forepaugh exhibitions have always been noted for their immensity and notable character of its many attractions in the past, the press of to-day are unanimous in pronouncing it this year as the best and largest circus that ever toured America.

In addition to the usual circus hippodrome, the largest and grandest in the world, the amusement will consist of an electric light, a grand organ, a band of 250,000, have added an additional Bible spectacle, "The Fall of Nineveh," which will be presented in addition to the regular performance with any extra charge. In this exhibition the audience expects to see one thousand people are required for its production. Nothing approaching it in the grandness or beauty of its scenery, in the exquisite coloring of its costumes, or in its interesting narrative. It is the best produced in this country, and when it is taken into consideration that it is all presented in addition to the regular performances, it is no wonder that the Forepaugh Show has earned the title of "The Grandest and Richest Exhibition in the World."

Arrangements have been made with all lines of travel for a special low excursion rate; therefore this big exhibition can be visited with comfort and convenience. Tickets or particulars can be obtained as to rates and time of trains by applying to the local ticket agent.

Shortsightedness.

To waste your money on vile, dirty, watery mixtures compounded by inexperienced persons when you have the opportunity of testing Otto's Cure for Cough, cold, etc., you continue to irritate your throat and lungs with that terrible hacking cough when Chapman & Williams will furnish you a free sample bottle of this great guaranteed remedy? Come to the light and observe its beautiful golden color and thick honey syrup. Large packages and purest goods. Large bottle 50c.

Appointed Lay Reader.

Prof. E. B. Guion, of the Capital City Business College, has been appointed lay reader by Bishop T. U. Dudley for Ascension Church in this city and has entered upon his duties as assistant to Rev. E. A. Penick, the rector. The commission came as an unsought compliment to Prof. Guion, of which he is very proud.

How to Cure a Cold.

Simply take Otto's Cure. We know of its astonishing cures and that it will stop a cough quicker than any known remedy.

If you have Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption or any disease of the throat and lungs, a few doses of this great guaranteed remedy will sur-

If you wish to try it call at our store on Main street, and we will be pleased to furnish you a bottle free of cost, and that will prove our assertion.

Well Enough to go to Church.

MESSENGERS. DuBois & Webb.

Gentlemen—In January I rented an Electropoise from you. I had never seen such a machine before, and was using it for relief, and the Doctor said Electropoise had done it. Four years ago I had a stroke of paralysis on my right side, and had tried everything without relief. I could not stand on my feet for two feet, and was very nervous, so much so I could not sleep more than two hours during the night, and suffered terribly with indigestion and constipation, and was always taking medicine. After using the Electropoise for a month, medicine in any kind, can now dress myself and take a bath without assistance. I am so thankful that now I can do something for myself as well as others for I can now assist my sister in her work, and she is quite sweet and comfortable as I ever did. My indigestion and constipation being entirely relieved I can now eat anything without having any drug bills to pay. My sister has been cured of a cough that had been troubling her for years. Also on consumption for which she was obliged to take medicine daily. I am going to church to-morrow for the first time since I have been sick. Wish you success with your Electropoise, and thanking God it relieved me.

CAPT. SANFORD GOIN Cut Down by Death's Reaper at a Ripe Old Age.

Capt. Sanford Goin, a well-known and prominent figure in this city, died Thursday night at his home on the corner of Lewis and Clinton streets. He was born Feb. 15, 1814, in Woodford county on a farm now owned by his son, Sanford, Jr., and came with his father to Frankfort when he was ten years of age.

As a boy he assisted in laying the foundation of the present State House and afterwards served his time in the trade of a stone mason, which occupation, together with that of a contractor and dealer in lumber, became the chief source of his livelihood during life. Far back in the early days of this city it was the city watchman when it was the custom to cry out the hours of the night and proclaim to the inhabitants that, "all is well." As a watchman, fireman in the volunteer service or captain of a battery which he organized many years before the war, he had the true instincts of a soldier in the face of the enemy and never seemed to realize what it was to experience a sense of fear. What he conceived to be his duty, either to the city of Frankfort, which he loved and served with a child's fidelity to its parent, or to his principles in politics, business or other issues of the day which forced him to decisive action, never wavered a moment in the choice and execution of his purpose, let the pains and penalties be what they may.

In the Scott and Pierce campaign in 1852, Capt. Goin's enthusiasm induced him to take his battery to Lundy's Lane to join the great political demonstration there in honor of Gen. Scott. During the war, when a detachment of Gen. John Morgan's command attacked this city, Capt. Goin, who was a captain in the artillery service of the State, was one of the squad who had charge of a twenty pound parrott gun on Fort Hill. Observing a six pound gun standing idle, he seized upon it and in the excitement of the firing, from some cause or other, it was prematurely discharged and the recoil knocked him down. The gun ran over him and produced injuries so intense from which he never afterwards completely recovered. Before and since the war, until within a few years past, Capt. Goin fired all the State and National salutes from the hills around the city and never seemed happier than when in the discharge of a soldier's duty or the observance of the rites of Odd Fellowship or Free Masonry, to both of which orders he was a devoted member, having joined the Odd Fellows forty-five years ago and the Masonic order about 1864. In the latter order he had taken all the degrees of York Rite Masonry.

Capt. Goin's first wife was a half sister of Mr. Henry Williams, on the South Side, and by her he leaves a son, Sanford Goin, Jr., of Woodford county, and Mrs. Emma Triplett, wife of John Triplett, of this city. A daughter—who married Mr. Charles Egbert—died several years ago. His son Philip, who was well-known here, died last Spring. After the death of his first wife, and when he concluded to marry his second wife, Miss Nannie Brightwell, of Glens Creek, in this county, he made an equal division of all his property among his first wife's children and their descendants, who compose a numerous progeny of grand children and great grand children, reserving for himself nothing but the house in which he passed his declining days.

By his last wife, who is a hopeless invalid, he leaves two young children, Walter and Nannie.

Whatever might be said of the faults of Capt. Goin—and none can say they are without blemish—he had the qualities which, if early advantages had not been denied to him, would have made him a forceable and conspicuous character in the State's history. As it is, he will be remembered as a true, warm-hearted, loyal friend, a kind, indulgent and impartial father, and a citizen whose good deeds in this life ought to outweigh the evil for which he long since stoned in self-denial and suffering.

The funeral will take place at the Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a member, to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and the Odd Fellows and Masonic order will attend the remains to their last place of rest in the cemetery.

The family physician, Mrs. Helen R. Shelters, 429 Walnut St., Reading Pa., states: "We always use Salvation Oil for what it is recommended in place of physician! It never fails."

Game Law Still In Force.

The restriction of the game law in regard to killing partridges and other birds does not expire until the 20th inst., and the Fish and Game Club propose to prosecute all those who violate the law by hunting birds before that time. The parties interested shall take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Removing Obstructions.

The crew of the U. S. Snagboat Kenly is now engaged in removing obstructions in the river near this city, and have cut away all the logs from the drift-pile at the St. Clair street bridge which protruded far enough out to interfere with passing boats, and raised the old stone barge which was sunk at Sander's wharf several years ago, and has since interfered very materially with the unloading of coal barges at that wharf.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
